FALL 2024

ONE TAPE TO RULE THEM ALL

THE TAPE LAB AGENDA

Original Content + Music Library

Explore a vast archive of original music created by Tape Lab artists. Tape Lab's music library features over 500+ tracks, spanning various genres, from beats and ballads to breaks. There's something for everyone in their extensive collection, especially if you're going for a long run or road trip.

New Content Every #TapeLabTuesday

Every #TapeLabTuesday, Tape Lab consistently releases new content through their Tape Blab Blog. Look out for new Music Videos, new albums, deep dives into our creative process, Live Streams, and more!

Submissions & Collaborations

Tape Lab welcomes undiscovered artists for collaboration, offering a platform to distribute and promote their work. Send us your original content, or work with us on something new. We love meeting new artists and expanding the mediums we work with!

Custom Commissions

Looking for something customized? Tape Lab offers commissioned art, custom-curated playlists, handmade and one-of-a-kind albums. Our team will work with you to make sure that we fully understand what you're looking for and deliver something extra special.

DIY How-To Guides

Tape Lab offers a growing library of DIY how-to guides for creating audio and VHS tapes at home, along with tips and tricks. We've been doing this for a long time and have some unique approaches to creating art that we are thrilled to share!

Tape Lab

FEARLESSLY ORIGINAL

As independent artists, we are always exploring new ways to expand our audience and find new creative outlets. We love collaborating—especially with undiscovered artists who are recording cassette tapes and getting you distributed on streaming platforms!

Tape Lab is currently based in Durham, NC and The Hamptons, NY.

SINCERITY SINCE 2017

Tape Lab came together with the kind of DIY spirit that you can't fake, founded in a hurry with a Yamaha PSR-750, Korg Kaosillator, a tape deck, and two 24 oz. Twisted Teas.

Our first jam session actually broke the tape before we could listen back, forcing us to literally tape the tape together to salvage it.

The "Lab" also nods to the spirit of coLABoration, which is essential to our approach.

Since then, we've kept the raw, imperfect vibe going, though we record digitally first now—mostly to avoid more busted tapes. The name "Tape Lab" sums it all up: we're obsessed with physical media (tape being the most instant, computer-free way to record music), and we operate like mad scientists in the studio, experimenting, jamming, and bending sounds to our will.

STAY A WHILE + LISTEN

Welcome to #TapeLab—stay a while and listen. Founded in 2017 by lifelong friends, Tape Lab is a collective of artists and a hub for innovation, always open to collaboration.

With the zeal of a self-published memoir, our sound is our own, but you can be the decider. We make music and art that sounds like it was fun to make and stands out in a sea of bland beats.

As independent artists, we are always exploring new ways to expand our audience and find new creative outlets—especially with other undiscovered artists!

Like a particle collider: ideas smashing together, seeing what sticks, and learning as we go. Tape Lab is made up of three main members.

TAPE SQUAD

2YNG2SMPL

Free from the burden of training or patience to learn 2yng2smpl makes art that defies quality and convention. Pronounced "Too Young, Too Simple," the name evokes unpretentiousness and immediacy.

CD+

A visionary, an imperfectionist, fiercly fearless. the ever inspiring Source. Born to the Drummers Guild, CD+ brings a technically inventive approach, often leading rhythm and chords. AKA Reverend Longshanks
